4.1. The provisions of Chapter 4 of these Rules apply to Users who, wishing to use the Services provided by the Operator, intend to borrow funds for a consumer credit through the Platform, as well as to Users who intend to invest in such consumer credits.

4.2. The Consumer Credit Recipient submits an Application, which is approved by the Operator, and based on the Application, an Invitation to invest in the consumer credit is issued. The Consumer Credit Provider submits an offer. Once the Consumer Credit Recipient accepts the invested amount and the Users agree to the General Conditions and Special Conditions, a Consumer Credit Agreement is concluded. The essential terms include the consumer credit amount, interest, applicable fees, and the consumer credit repayment term, all of which are specified in the Special Conditions to the Consumer Credit Agreement.

4.3. In the Application, the desired consumer credit amount is indicated in euros. When completing the Application, the Consumer Credit Recipient specifies the preferred consumer credit repayment term; however, the Operator, based on the data collected during the creditworthiness assessment, may adjust or propose a different repayment term. Both the Consumer Credit Recipient and the Consumer Credit Provider review all pre-contractual terms of the Consumer Credit Agreement in advance, prior to concluding the Consumer Credit Agreement.

4.4. A Consumer Credit Recipient who wishes to submit an Application must provide the following information and indicate:

- 4.4.1. Obligations related to real estate; other existing consumer credits; leasing commitments;
- 4.4.2. Total amount of monthly obligations; planned new obligations; debts to other financial institutions;

4.5. After the User submits an Application, the Operator verifies the provided data in the UAB Scorify database, the State Social Insurance Fund Board (Sodra), the Population Register, and other accessible registries. If necessary, the Operator may request, and the User must promptly provide, within 5 (five) calendar days, a bank account statement for the specified period or other additional data or documents required to assess creditworthiness.

4.6. After the User completes the Application form, the creditworthiness of the Consumer Credit Recipient is assessed. If the Consumer Credit Recipient meets the creditworthiness criteria established by the Operator, a consumer credit offer is provided. Upon the Consumer Credit Recipient's acceptance of the offer, the Operator confirms the Application and publishes an Invitation to invest in the consumer credit.

4.7. Upon submission of the Application by the Consumer Credit Recipient, the Operator reviews it and has the right to:

- 4.7.1. Confirm the Application and make it publicly available for investments;
- 4.7.2. If the Consumer Credit Recipient was requested to provide additional documents but fails to do so within the period specified in section 4.5, or if the submitted information is inaccurate, the Operator has the right to contact the Consumer Credit Recipient via the provided contact details to obtain the missing information or other documents related to income or financial obligations necessary to assess creditworthiness. Information contained in bank account statements is never disclosed to other Users and is used solely to verify the accuracy of the submitted information;
- 4.7.3. If, based on the Application and the information collected during the creditworthiness assessment, the Operator decides that the consumer credit amount, credit term, or other key details need to be adjusted, the Consumer Credit Recipient is notified separately through their Platform Profile, and/or by phone or email, and upon their consent, a new updated Application is created.

4.8. If the Application is confirmed, it is made publicly available on the Platform for a period not exceeding 5 (five) days.

4.9. If the Application is not financed for the requested consumer credit amount within the specified 5 (five) day period, the Consumer Credit Recipient may be offered a lower (already financed) amount than indicated in the Application. If the Consumer Credit Recipient does not agree to the lower offered amount, the consumer credit financing is considered unsuccessful, and no legal relationship is created between the Consumer Credit Recipient, the Consumer Credit Provider, and/or the Operator.

4.10. If the funds are not collected according to the submitted Application, the Operator cannot be considered at fault or deemed to have violated or failed to fulfil its obligations.

4.11. The Platform publicly displays a list of Invitations to invest in consumer credits, allowing Users to view the submitted investment offers in real-time.

4.12. The Platform Operator has the right to disclose anonymised information about the Consumer Credit Recipient, i.e. information regarding the recipient's place of residence, amount of income and liabilities, sources of income, and other relevant information necessary for Consumer Credit Providers to assess the Application and submit their investment offers. Information that the Operator cannot disclose includes the Consumer Credit Recipient's name, surname, personal identification code, home address, and other personal information.

4.13. A Consumer Credit Provider, having reviewed the publicly available investment Invitations, may submit their offers specifying the amount to be invested. The invested principal amount in the consumer credit must be at least 10 EUR, and the principal amount proposed by the Consumer Credit Provider may not exceed the amount requested by the Consumer Credit Recipient in the Application.

4.14. The total amount of consumer credits invested by a Consumer Credit Provider to a single Consumer Credit Recipient on the Platform, which remain unpaid, cannot exceed 500 EUR.

4.15. The funds a Consumer Credit Provider proposes to invest are reserved in the Consumer Credit Provider's personal account, i.e. the corresponding amount is reserved for this specific consumer credit amount, and the Consumer Credit Provider can no longer withdraw the proposed and reserved amount. The Consumer Credit Provider cannot propose to invest more than the funds available in their personal account.

4.16. The reserved funds may be released, and the Consumer Credit Provider will be able to freely manage the previously reserved amount in their personal account when:

4.16.1. The specified period for collecting the financed consumer credit amount has expired without reaching the target amount; or

4.16.2. The Consumer Credit Recipient does not accept the offer to borrow a smaller already invested consumer credit amount; or

4.16.3. In other cases where the offer to invest in a specific consumer credit is cancelled.

4.17. The Consumer Credit Provider, having submitted an offer to invest in a specific consumer credit, electronically confirms their consent and thereby submits an official offer to invest in the Consumer Credit Agreement. The offer is valid until it is either accepted or rejected by the Consumer Credit Recipient in accordance with the procedures specified in these Rules.

4.18. The Operator has the right at any time, without prior notice, to restrict or reject an Application and/or a Consumer Credit Provider's offer to invest if it becomes apparent that the Consumer Credit Recipient has outstanding obligations being enforced by a bailiff, or the Consumer Credit Recipient has taken on new obligations during the period when funding for the consumer credit was being collected, and/or for other reasons the Consumer Credit Recipient's credit assessment has changed, or the User's Profile has been restricted due to non-compliance with Lithuanian anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing regulations or other legal requirements, or if other negative information arises, etc.

4.19. The Operator, like other Consumer Credit Providers, has the right to invest in consumer credits, and in such cases, the Operator is granted priority.

5. CONSUMER CREDIT AGREEMENT CONCLUSION

5.1. A Consumer Credit Agreement is considered concluded when the Consumer Credit Recipient's requested credit amount has been fully invested, or the Consumer Credit Recipient confirms their agreement to accept a lower invested amount than originally requested, or the Consumer Credit Recipient independently expresses a wish to receive a smaller credit amount than specified in the submitted Application.

5.2. All offers from Consumer Credit Providers to invest in consumer credit(s) are recorded and registered by the Operator in chronological order according to Platform time. In cases where the total intended invested amount is less than the combined offers, priority is given to the Consumer Credit Providers who first submitted their offer to invest in the specific consumer credit(s) according to the Invitation.

5.3. The Operator reserves the right to establish a different order of priority for Consumer Credit Providers within the Platform environment.

5.4. When a Consumer Credit Provider submits an offer(s) to invest in a Consumer Credit Agreement, they thereby express their intention and confirm that, once the Consumer Credit Agreement is concluded, the Operator will have the right to debit the specified invested amount from the Consumer Credit Provider's personal account and credit it to the Consumer Credit Recipient's personal account. The Consumer Credit Provider's funds are always segregated and held separately from the Operator's own funds. The Operator may use the Consumer Credit Provider's funds solely for financing the consumer credit, and only the portion of funds designated for the Operator as payment for financing services in the Platform may be transferred to the Operator. By separate agreement between the parties, the Operator may receive a pre-agreed fee for any additional services, if applicable.

5.5. The Consumer Credit Recipient may give their consent to receive the invested amount, or a lower amount than requested in the Application, by phone, by email, or via the Platform.

5.6. At the end of the investment period, whether the full requested consumer credit amount has been invested or the Consumer Credit Recipient has expressed a wish to accept a lower amount than requested, the Operator performs the following actions:

5.6.1. Assigns an identification number to the Consumer Credit Agreement, uploads it to the Consumer Credit Recipient's and/or Provider's Platform Profile, and/or sends the Special Conditions to the Consumer Credit Agreement to the specified email;

5.6.2. Prepares the consumer credit Repayment Schedule;

5.6.3. Credits the funds from the Consumer Credit Provider(s) personal account to the Consumer Credit Recipient's personal account no later than within 12 hours.

5.7. The calculation of interest payable to the Consumer Credit Provider(s) starts from the actual date the funds are credited to the Consumer Credit Recipient.

5.8. Users will at any time have the ability to access information about the consumer credit Repayment Schedule, payment status, outstanding balance, and other relevant information, which will be visible in the User's Profile on the Platform. Users are identified in the usual manner by logging into the Platform using their personal login credentials.

6. CONSUMER CREDIT REPAYMENT PROCEDURE AND OTHER APPLICABLE FEES

6.1. The Consumer Credit Recipient is obliged to fulfil their obligations and pay the principal amount of the consumer credit, the agreed interest, and other fees (administration fee, agreement conclusion fee, etc.) according to the approved consumer credit Repayment Schedule specified in the Special Conditions to the Consumer Credit Agreement.

6.2. The total amount payable by the Consumer Credit Recipient consists of the amount invested by the Consumer Credit Provider(s), including the Operator if it has provided at least part of the financed consumer credit amount, interest, administration fees, agreement conclusion fee (if applicable), late fees (in case of delayed performance of obligations), and/or any other fees, if specified in the Special Conditions to the Consumer Credit Agreement.

6.3. All monthly instalments must be paid according to the dates specified in the Repayment Schedule to the Consumer Credit Agreement. The Repayment Schedule to the Consumer Credit Agreement is provided to the Consumer Credit Recipient on a durable medium and is additionally made available in the Consumer Credit Recipient's Profile on the Platform.

6.4. The Consumer Credit Provider acknowledges that income from interest earned from investing through the Platform is subject to taxation and must be declared in accordance with the laws of the Consumer Credit Provider's place of residence. The Operator is not and cannot be responsible for the proper fulfilment of any obligations related to income taxation.

6.5. The Consumer Credit Recipient shall repay the consumer credit amount and pay the interest and any other fees specified in the Special Conditions to the Agreement, strictly in accordance with the established Repayment Schedule. All monthly instalments are allocated in the following order, provided that payments are made on the due dates set at the time of signing the Agreement, i.e. without delay:

6.5.1. Interest and administration fee, and/or other agreed-upon charges specified in the Special Terms and Conditions to the Consumer Credit Agreement;

6.6.3. Interest, administration fee, and/or other agreed-upon charges specified in the Special Terms and Conditions to the Consumer Credit Agreement;

6.6.4. Credit amount.

6.7. If the payment date of the Consumer Credit Recipient's monthly instalment(s) and/or other payments falls on an official non-working day or public holiday, the payment date shall be considered the next business day immediately following that day.

6.8. The Consumer Credit Recipient has the right to repay part or all of the Consumer Credit before the term specified in the Special Conditions to the Consumer Credit Agreement. To repay the credit early, the Consumer Credit Recipient must notify the Operator at least 3 (three) calendar days prior to the intended repayment date, either by email or by regular mail to the Operator's registered address, specifying the Consumer Credit Agreement number, the scheduled repayment term, and the exact date on which the full or partial credit, interest, and fees specified in the Special Conditions to the Consumer Credit Agreement will be repaid. After providing such notice, the Consumer Credit Recipient is entitled to a reduction in the total cost of the consumer credit, calculated based on the interest, administrative fee, and expenses for the remaining duration of the credit agreement from the date of repayment of the credit or its part.

6.9. The Consumer Credit Recipient may submit a written request to the Operator for a deferral of payments. Upon such a request, made in writing on paper or another durable medium, the Operator is obliged, during the term of the Consumer Credit Agreement, to defer the payment of instalments, excluding interest, for a period specified in the Consumer Credit Recipient's request, but not exceeding 3 (three) months, if the Consumer Credit Recipient does not meet the creditworthiness and responsible lending requirements specified in Article 8(5) of the Law on Consumer Credit, relating to the ratio of the Consumer Credit Recipient's obligations under the Consumer Credit Agreement and other agreements with financial institutions to their average income, and at least one of the following circumstances applies:

- 6.9.1. The Consumer Credit Recipient's marriage is dissolved;

- 6.9.5. The Consumer Credit Recipient undertakes mandatory initial military service.

6.10. Upon receiving the request from the Consumer Credit Recipient, the Operator, having identified or been informed of other significant circumstances, has the right, after individual assessment, to decide to postpone the payment of instalments, excluding interest, for the period specified in the Consumer Credit Recipient's request, but for no longer than 3 (three) months. Upon postponement, the deferred instalments are recalculated by mutual agreement between the Consumer Credit Recipient and the Operator, and an updated credit Repayment Schedule is prepared. If the Operator refuses to postpone payments, a reasoned explanation must be provided.

6.11. The reasons why the postponement of Consumer Credit instalments is not possible, if on the day of submitting the request the Consumer Credit Recipient meets at least one of the following criteria:

- 6.11.1. Is late in paying any instalment;
- 6.11.2. Is subject to pre-litigation debt recovery proceedings;
- 6.11.3. Is subject to judicial debt recovery proceedings.

6.12. By decision of the Operator, a longer postponement period for instalment payments than 3 (three) months may be granted.

6.13. The Consumer Credit Recipient, upon the Operator making a reasoned decision to extend the instalment postponement period beyond 3 (three) months, shall be informed of such a decision no later than 15 (fifteen) working days from the date the Operator receives the request to postpone payments. The postponement of instalments indicated in the credit Repayment Schedule in accordance with clauses 6.12–6.13 of these Rules is free of charge.

7. PROCEDURE FOR PAYMENTS MADE THROUGH THE PLATFORM

7.1. All payments and settlements are carried out through the Platform managed by the Operator, where all Users hold a payment account. Funds are directly debited from one User's account and credited to another User's account, either directly or via a dedicated transit account to the Consumer Credit Recipient's bank account (for example, upon investment of a consumer credit, from the Consumer Credit Provider's account to the Consumer Credit Recipient's account, or from the Consumer Credit Provider's account to a dedicated transit account, from which funds are then transferred to the Consumer Credit Recipient's bank account). When the Consumer Credit Recipient repays the loan, funds are transferred either from the Consumer Credit Recipient's account to the Consumer Credit Provider's account, or via a dedicated transit account, from which the Operator allocates funds to the Consumer Credit Provider. Funds are credited to the Operator's account only when such funds belong to the Operator, i.e. intermediary fees and/or administrative charges and/or other payments, as well as in cases where the Consumer Credit Recipient makes a repayment directly to the Operator's account.

7.2. The Operator is not the manager of funds belonging to the Consumer Credit Provider and/or the Consumer Credit Recipient (except in cases where the Operator is also one of the Consumer Credit Providers). The Operator acts solely as an intermediary, responsible for executing Users' functional instructions rather than making specific decisions. All transfers made from Users' accounts are recorded in the User's Profile on the Platform.

7.3. If a User notices funds incorrectly credited to or debited from their account, they must immediately notify the Operator. If there are insufficient funds in the account to reverse the incorrectly credited amounts, the User undertakes to either return the incorrectly credited funds to the account or reserve in the account an amount equal to the incorrectly credited or debited sum within 5 (five) business days from the Operator's request. If the User fails to return the incorrectly credited funds within the specified period, the Operator has the right to unilaterally debit this amount from the User's account.

7.4. The Operator is not liable for any losses incurred by the User due to the User's improper decision-making and/or in cases where the User has disclosed or lost their unique Platform login credentials and/or in cases where, due to the actions of a third party not related to the Operator, functional transfers or debits of funds are incorrectly executed as a result of a system breach, except in cases where the damage or loss has arisen exclusively due to the Operator's proven fault (improper action or inaction).

8. LEGAL REGULATION OF NON-PERFORMANCE OF OBLIGATIONS

8.1. If the Consumer Credit Recipient fails to fulfil the obligations under the concluded Consumer Credit Agreement, or fails to pay the fees due to the Operator, the Operator, in accordance with the Debt Recovery Procedure, shall have the right to initiate, or authorise designated persons to initiate, recovery actions under the procedure and conditions specified in these Rules and their annexes, as well as to carry out the administration and enforcement of security measures. For enforced recovery actions, the Operator may apply an additional fee to the Consumer Credit Recipient. The Consumer Credit Recipient shall pay the fee established by the Operator.

8.2. In the event of delayed fulfilment of obligations, the Consumer Credit Recipient shall additionally be required to pay:

8.2.1 Late fees – from the first day of delay for each overdue day, calculated on the consumer credit amount, interest, and the administration fee. The late fees paid shall be deemed the property of the Consumer Credit Providers, and, in cases where the Operator has provided at least part of the consumer credit amount, as the property of the Operator.

8.3. In cases where the available funds are insufficient to cover the amounts payable to the Consumer Credit Providers under the Consumer Credit Agreement, the claims of the Consumer Credit Providers shall be satisfied proportionally to the amounts invested by each Consumer Credit Provider, or in full to each Consumer Credit Provider separately, depending on which Consumer Credit Provider was the first to invest in the Consumer Credit Recipient's Application.

8.4. All notifications regarding overdue payments shall be provided in the Platform Profile or sent to the email address or by SMS message specified by the Consumer Credit Recipient. Failure to provide notice of overdue payments shall not release the Consumer Credit Recipient from the obligation to fulfil their commitments. The Consumer Credit Recipient shall also have no right to make claims, and any such claims shall not be considered, if they have failed to inform the Operator about a change to their email address or mobile phone number, and the Operator has sent the notice to the most recently provided email address or mobile phone number of the Consumer Credit Recipient.

8.5. Upon receiving payments from a Consumer Credit Recipient who has delayed payment of instalments, the amounts shall be credited in the following order:

8.5.1. a) Late fees payable to the Consumer Credit Provider (0.05%) of the overdue amount; b) Delay (compensatory) interest; c) The consumer credit amount and interest payable to the Consumer Credit Provider.

9.2.5. By any means inputting into the Platform data that may contain software viruses, or any other code, files, or programs intended to interfere with, limit, or damage the functions of the Platform or its hardware, software, or communications equipment, including programs that would automatically track, use, and/or store information contained in or submitted to the Platform;

9.3. If the Operator determines and/or suspects that a User is using the Platform in violation of these Rules and/or engaging in prohibited activities, in order to protect the operation of the Platform and ensure the uninterrupted provision of Services, as well as to protect other Users and/or third parties and their legitimate interests, and to prevent potential damage arising from such unlawful actions, the Operator shall have the right, without prior notice, to:

9.5. The Consumer Credit Provider and the Consumer Credit Recipient agree and acknowledge that the Operator may assume the Consumer Credit Provider's claim right in the cases provided for in these Rules and the Consumer Credit Agreement, and whenever necessary to ensure the fulfilment of the Consumer Credit Agreement and the recovery of the debt. This is to enable the Operator to take all actions required to properly represent the interests of the Consumer Credit Provider and administer the repayment of the debt. The transfer of the claim right (including the right to further transfer to a third party) occurs when the Operator sends an email notification to the Consumer Credit Provider regarding the automatic assumption of the claim right. The Operator shall notify the Consumer Credit Recipient of the termination of the Consumer Credit Agreement and the transfer of the claim right via the Consumer Credit Recipient's email address, or to the last known residential address of the Consumer Credit Recipient (as provided during registration or obtained from databases).

9.6. The Consumer Credit Provider agrees and acknowledges that, upon assuming the claim right, the Operator acts as a prudent creditor and makes efforts to recover the debt. However, the Operator shall not be liable to the Consumer Credit Provider, either individually, jointly, or subsidiarily with the Consumer Credit Recipient, for whether the debt is successfully recovered or the extent to which it is recovered.

10. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

10.1. All intellectual property rights to the Platform and all its content, including content published by Users, i.e. any information, data, or photographs that become part of the Platform's database, belong to the Operator or are lawfully used by the Operator under rights granted by third parties.

10.2. The User agrees that, by using the Platform and/or the Operator's services, all content they publish, i.e. any information, data, or photographs that the User uploads or enters into the Platform, including but not limited to information about other Platform Users, shall become part of the Platform's database and shall be stored by the Operator free of charge and used for an unlimited period, except where otherwise provided in these Rules and/or the laws of the Republic of Lithuania.

11. USER PERSONAL DATA

11.1. Users' personal data is processed in accordance with the Privacy Policy published on the Platform. In the event of any discrepancies between these Rules and the provisions of the Policy, the provisions of the Policy shall prevail.

11.2. The User agrees that their anonymised information may be disclosed on the Platform once they have completed and confirmed the Application.

11.3. The User is also informed that, in cases and under the procedures established by law, the Operator has the right to obtain the User's personal data from third parties to whom the User has failed to properly fulfil financial or property obligations, as well as from data controllers managing joint debtor databases. Furthermore, if the Consumer Credit Recipient fails to properly fulfil their obligations under the Consumer Credit Agreement, the Operator, having duly informed the Consumer Credit Recipient in advance, shall have the right, if the Consumer Credit Recipient is at least 30 days late in fulfilling their obligations, to submit the Consumer Credit Recipient's personal data to UAB Scorify and/or other administrators of joint debtor databases, as well as to any other third parties having a legitimate interest.

12. TERMINATION OF SERVICE PROVISION

12.1. The User has the right to withdraw from the Services and delete their Profile by notifying the Operator 30 (thirty) days in advance, provided that, at the time of exercising this right, the User has no active Consumer Credit Agreements or confirmed and submitted Applications for financing.

12.2. The Operator has the right to terminate the provision of Services and delete the User's Profile without prior notice if the User violates the provisions of these Rules, including in the cases specified in Section 9 of these Rules where the User engages in prohibited activities, as well as in other cases provided for in these Rules and applicable legal acts, using the measures specified in Clause 14.1.2 of these Rules.

13.2. The Operator shall be liable only for direct losses incurred by the User as a result of the Operator's intentional actions or gross negligence, where such losses arise from a material breach of these Rules by the Operator. In all cases, the Operator shall be liable only for those direct losses that could have been reasonably foreseen at the time of the breach of the Rules.

13.3. The following circumstances shall not be considered a breach of the Operator's Service provision, and in all such cases the Operator shall bear no liability:

13.3.5. Regarding the validity and legality of Consumer Credit Agreements concluded on the Platform, when the Operator, despite having exercised maximum diligence and complied with the requirements of the Law on Consumer Credit and other applicable legal acts, could not have identified the circumstances that would have prevented the Agreement from being concluded or required it to be concluded under different terms, and such failure did not result from the Operator's fault.

13.4. The Operator merely administers the Platform and acts as an intermediary between the parties to the Consumer Credit Agreement. Users conclude Consumer Credit Agreements on the Platform directly with other Users, at their own discretion and risk.

13.5. The Operator is not liable and cannot be held responsible for non-performance and/or improper performance of obligations, and/or unlawful actions arising from the failure or improper performance of obligations by other parties providing services (for example, payment service providers, communication service providers, and others).
